I highly appreciated the ieema concept of organizing an informal gathering on the sidelines of the elecrama exhibition, followed by a meet and greet at the beer garden. This event provided a valuable opportunity to connect with fellow group members on a more personal level, fostering the development of stronger networking relationships for the future. As a dedicated long-term member of the IEEMA organization and a young IEEMA, I am eagerly anticipating immersing myself in more productive endeavors within the organization. The platform young ieema is such an awesome initiative by the committee to nurture the young generation entrepreneurs and elevate them to a global and national level, giving them a voice in the country's growth and the power sector.
