The Young @ IEEMA Annual Retreat 2024 was an extraordinary event that brought together young entrepreneurs from the electrical and electronics industry for a peer-to-peer learning and team building experience. Held at the picturesque Teela - The Glamping Resort in Jaipur from February 23rd to 25th, the retreat was a perfect blend of adventure, networking, and knowledge-sharing.

Retreat Highlights: Adventure and Thrills

The retreat began with an adrenaline-pumping off-roading experience, offering participants a unique opportunity to challenge themselves and build fellowship. The paintball showdown on the second day added a competitive edge, fostering team spirit and collaboration.

Discussion on Year Plan and Networking

One of the retreat's focal points was the networking sessions on the first day at the sundowner point at TEELA - The Glamping Resort, creating an environment for meaningful connections and collaborations. Participants had the chance to engage with like-minded young industry leaders, share insights, and forge partnerships that will undoubtedly contribute to their professional growth. Additionally, there were insightful discussions among the participants about the activities planned throughout the year for Young @ IEEMA. The agenda included a comprehensive year plan, reflections on learnings from previous events, and constructive conversations about the way forward for the group.

Peer to Peer Learning Session

On day 2, the Young @ IEEMA Annual Retreat 2024 spurred insightful discussions on production challenges, marketing strategies, sales excellence, training resources, employee retention, ERP & CRM implementation, tapping new geographical markets, and industry trends. Participants shared experiences and strategies, fostering a collaborative problem-solving approach. These focused discussions enriched collective knowledge, paving the way for innovative solutions, and demonstrating Young @ IEEMA's commitment to fostering an environment of open dialogue and knowledge-sharing within the industry.

Cultural Sundowners and Heritage

The retreat wasn't just about business; it also celebrated the rich cultural heritage of Jaipur. The Cultural Sundowners and Heritage session during the Young @ IEEMA Annual Retreat 2024 was a captivating experience, graciously hosted by Aniketa Mangal from Mangal Electrical Industries Pvt. Ltd on Day 2 evening. The event unfolded at the enchanting Sunar Bagh in Jaipur, setting the stage for an evening immersed in cultural richness and heritage.

Professional Development

The Annual Retreat 2024 was all about helping young professionals grow in their careers. We focused on activities and sessions to improve important skills and stay updated on what's happening in our industry. Participants learned valuable things that will help them in their jobs.

Feedback & Future Plans

Everyone who attended the retreat loved it! They thought it was a perfect mix of fun, making connections, and learning new things. The different activities made sure there was something for everyone.

We have exciting plans for the future. We're thinking about more events, workshops to develop skills, and projects where everyone can work together. The success of the Annual Retreat 2024 has set a high standard for what we want to do next. We're also thrilled to announce a special collaboration with the Young Entrepreneurs Program at IIM Ahmedabad. This means more opportunities for our members to learn and grow in their careers.

The Annual Retreat 2024 showed that Young @ IEEMA has a bright future. We're looking forward to growing more, working together, and having even more success in the future. ■
